WORKSHOP

KEN BOVA!

"Jewelry: Associations and Digressions"

DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE A WORKSHOP FROM A MASTER JEWELER

When: August 16 and 17, 2003

Where: North Seattle Community College

Deadline: July 15, 2003

Free Lecture: Friday, August 15, 2003 at 7:00 p.m.

Where: North Seattle Community College

This is a lecture and workshop you won't want to miss! Ken Bova is brilliant at creating personal jewelry that can be made relatively quickly and produce satisfying results. He will help lead you from an idea to a finished piece. In this workshop you will:

* Play with the use of color and collage as a design tool and process for assembling work, learn bench tricks, and simple tool-making processes.

* Examine the use of found objects, non-traditional and alternative materials and ways of incorporating them in jewelry.

BIMONTHLY NEWSLETTER

JULY/AUG 2003

* Explore fast, direct findings and bindings, and the use of cold connection techniques to assemble your work.

* Special emphasis will be given to designing from personal experience and focus will be placed on individual attention, working quickly, intuitively, and with as much fun as possible.

This workshop is for all levels. Some jewelry making experience would be helpful, but is not necessary. Both the lecture and workshop will be held at North Seattle Community College. This is a once-in-a-lifetime chance to take a workshop highly acclaimed and sought after teacher.
